Update

Key Rating Drivers

VR Drives IDRs, Support Underpins: Santander Consumer Bank AG's (SCB AG) Issuer Default Ratings (IDRs) are driven by the bank's Viability Rating (VR). The IDRs are further underpinned by Fitch Ratings' view of the strong support available from SCB AG's ultimate parent, Banco Santander, S.A. (Santander; A-/Stable), potentially channelled via SCB AG's intermediate parent Santander Consumer Finance, S.A. (SCF; A-/Stable) and resulting in a Shareholder Support Rating (SSR) of 'a-'. The Stable Outlook on SCB AG's Long-Term IDR mirrors that on its parents.

SCB AG's VR reflects its leading German car and consumer financing franchise, which dominates its business model, earnings and risk profile. It results in good asset quality, sound profits and adequate capital, funding and liquidity profiles. The VR also reflects the bank's modest business diversification, given its small share in residential mortgages and SME lending.

Focused, Profitable Business Profile: SCB AG's business model proved resilient in 2022 and new business volumes increased in all of the bank's focus segments, despite the economic downturn in Germany. However, higher interest rates and commission expenses put pressure on asset and liability margins. High inflation also negatively affected SCB's cost efficiency, which nonetheless remains competitive. We believe that SCB's business profile will continue to deliver a level of profitability above the German banking sector average.

Sound Risk Profile: We expect SCB AG's strong consumer finance expertise, sound execution record and well-tested risk management framework, underpinned by sound underwriting standards, will support the bank's credit quality through the cycle.

Resilient Asset Quality: SCB's loan quality was stable in 2022 despite challenges from the operating environment. We expect impaired loans to rise moderately in 2023 as higher interest rates and inflation test the financial headroom for households, SMEs and the mobility sector. However, we expect SCB AG's four-year-average impaired loan ratio to remain below 3% in the medium term.

Costs Weigh on Profits: SCB AG's through-the-cycle profitability is well above the domestic sector average and reflects wide interest rate margins, a competitive cost base, and contained loan impairment charges (LICs). We expect LICs to increase in 2023 above the long-term average due to the economic downturn. However, the four-year-average operating profit/risk-weighted assets (RWAs) is likely to remain above 1.5% in the medium term.

Adequate Capitalisation: Our assessment of SCB AG's capitalisation includes ordinary group support as the bank relies on capital injections from the group to back significant loan growth or acquisitions. The bank usually does not generate capital internally as annual profits are upstreamed to its German intermediate parent. Our assessment also considers a flexible approach for capital relief transactions and good leverage ratio of 6.7 % at end-2022.

Self-Funded, Largely Through Deposits: SCB AG has an established retail deposit franchise supplemented by regular capital market issuance. The bank's large stock of unencumbered auto and consumer loans enables flexible management of its liquid assets through the issuance of ECB-eligible retained asset-backed securities. SCB AG has adequate liquidity buffers in place.

Rating Sensitivities

Factors that Could, Individually or Collectively, Lead to Negative Rating Action/Downgrade

SCB AG's IDR's would be downgraded if its VR was downgraded, and if, at the same time, the SSR was downgraded.

SCB AG's VR could be downgraded if the bank's operating profit durably declines below 1.5% of RWA without credible prospects of restoring it above this threshold over the medium term, combined with a significant and structural deterioration in asset quality. A downgrade of Santander's VR could also put pressure on SCB AG's VR as the latter factors in ordinary support benefits from being part of the group.

A downgrade of Santander's VR, the sale of a significant stake in SCB AG or a decline in SCB AG's strategic importance for the group could reduce the likelihood of extraordinary support and trigger a downgrade of SCB AG's SSR. SCB AG's IDR's would be downgraded if its VR is downgraded and if, at the same time, we estimate that the availability of extraordinary support from Santander has decreased. A downgrade of Santander's VR, the sale of a significant stake in SCB AG or a decline in SCB AG's strategic importance for the group could reduce the likelihood of extraordinary support and trigger a downgrade of SCB AG's SSR.

Factors that Could, Individually or Collectively, Lead to Positive Rating Action/Upgrade

An upgrade of Santander's IDR's would trigger an upgrade of SCB AG's IDR's. An upgrade of SCB AG's VR would first require an upgrade of Santander's VRs, as well as a major and sustainable increase in revenue diversification at SCB AG with limited dilution of its operating profit/RWAs.

Senior preferred ratings (long-term/short-term)	A/F1

Source: Fitch Ratings

The Derivative Counterparty Rating (DCR), long-term senior preferred (SP) debt and long-term deposit rating are all one notch above the Long-Term IDR to reflect the protection accruing to preferred creditors from the SNP and junior debt buffers. SCB AG is issuing its resolution debt buffers internally to SCF and Santander, because it is part of the same resolution group. The short-term SP debt and deposit ratings of 'F1' are the lower of the two options mapping to the long-term ratings of 'A', because the liquidity and funding score of 'bbb+' prevents higher short-term ratings.

SCB AG's external senior non-preferred (SNP) debt rating is aligned with its Long-Term IDR, as we expect the bank to continue to meet its resolution buffer requirements with SNP and more junior debt only.

SCB AG's 'F2' Short-Term IDR is aligned with Santander's. It is also the lower of the two options mapping to the Long-Term IDR of 'A-', because SCB AG's liquidity and funding score of 'bbb+' prevents a higher Short-Term IDR.

Significant Changes from Last Review

Deteriorating Economic Prospects: Weak Economic Growth and Asset Quality Risks Ahead

The continued challenging operating environment in Germany reflects weak economic growth – mainly due to the impact of higher energy prices. A strong backlog of orders is still supporting German manufacturing, but new orders are slowing. Production is well short of pre-pandemic levels, and the energy-intensive sectors continue to struggle despite having recovered from the worst of the energy price and supply shock. Germany's GDP fell 0.3% in 1Q23, marking a second successive quarter of contraction. The recession took the German economy below its pre-pandemic level, lagging well behind the post-pandemic recovery paths elsewhere in Europe. Meanwhile, inflation remained high and was sticky at 6.1% in August, down only 0.1pp from July, and core inflation was unchanged at 5.5%.

So far, the German banking sector has proved resilient to the downturn as banks' profits in 1H23 increased yoy, supported by higher interest rates, improved margins and low-risk costs. Corporate defaults remained benign throughout 2022 and into 1H23; however, Fitch expects an increase of corporate insolvencies in 2H23 and 2024. Therefore, asset quality pressure is likely to materialise from 2H23, primarily in energy-intensive industrial sectors such as the chemical, paper, glass industry or machinery sectors, due to a fall in domestic demand.

Sectors that are interest-rate-sensitive, such as construction and real estate, are likely to have higher default rates.

Inflation Weighs on Consumer Confidence

Consumer price inflation in Germany remained high and was persistent at 6.1% in August 2023, down only 0.1pp from July. Core inflation remained unchanged at 5.5%. The German Consumer Climate Indicator, compiled by the market research company Gesellschaft fuer Konsumforschung (GfK), dropped to -25.5 in August, marking the lowest reading since May this year. In addition, GfK's "propensity to buy" sub-index has remained low since summer 2022, weighing on consumer sentiment.

We believe that the weaker consumer fundamentals over the medium term could weigh on private sector credit demand from consumer finance banks, although this had not yet materialised as of mid-2023.

Higher influence Moderate influence Lower influence

We view Santander's propensity and ability to support SCB AG as very high, due to SCB AG's deep integration, shared brand name and small size relative to the group. Car and unsecured consumer financing are core businesses for the group. We believe that Santander would increase SCB AG's capital to support organic growth and acquisitions whenever needed, as it has in the past.

Credit-Relevant ESG Derivation

Santander Consumer Bank AG has 5 ESG potential rating drivers

- ➔ Santander Consumer Bank AG has exposure to compliance risks including fair lending practices, mis-selling, repossession/foreclosure practices, consumer data protection (data security) but this has very low impact on the rating.
- ➔ Governance is minimally relevant to the rating and is not currently a driver.

How to Read This Page

ESG relevance scores range from 1 to 5 based on a 15-level color gradation. Red (5) is most relevant to the credit rating and green (1) is least relevant.

The Environmental (E), Social (S) and Governance (G) tables break out the ESG general issues and the sector-specific issues that are most relevant to each industry group. Relevance scores are assigned to each sector-specific issue, signaling the credit-relevance of the sector-specific issues to the issuer's overall credit rating. The Criteria Reference column highlights the factor(s) within which the corresponding ESG issues are captured in Fitch's credit analysis. The vertical color bars are visualizations of the frequency of occurrence of the highest constituent relevance scores. They do not represent an aggregate of the relevance scores or aggregate ESG credit relevance.

The Credit-Relevant ESG Derivation table's far right column is a visualization of the frequency of occurrence of the highest ESG relevance scores across the combined E, S and G categories. The three columns to the left of ESG Relevance to Credit Rating summarize rating relevance and impact to credit from ESG issues. The box on the far left identifies any ESG Relevance Sub-factor issues that are drivers or potential drivers of the issuer's credit rating (corresponding with scores of 3, 4 or 5) and provides a brief explanation for the relevance score. All scores of '4' and '5' are assumed to result in a negative impact unless indicated with a '+' sign for positive impact. Scores of 3, 4 or 5) and provides a brief explanation for the score.

Classification of ESG issues has been developed from Fitch's sector ratings criteria. The General Issues and Sector-Specific Issues draw on the classification standards published by the United Nations Principles for Responsible Investing (PRI), the Sustainability Accounting Standards Board (SASB), and the World Bank.

CREDIT-RELEVANT ESG SCALE

How relevant are E, S and G issues to the overall credit rating?

5	Highly relevant, a key rating driver that has a significant impact on the rating on an individual basis. Equivalent to "higher" relative importance within Navigator.
4	Relevant to rating, not a key rating driver but has an impact on the rating in combination with other factors. Equivalent to "moderate" relative importance within Navigator.
3	Minimally relevant to rating, either very low impact or actively managed in a way that results in no impact on the entity rating. Equivalent to "lower" relative importance within Navigator.
2	Irrelevant to the entity rating but relevant to the sector.
1	Irrelevant to the entity rating and irrelevant to the sector.

The highest level of ESG credit relevance is a score of '3', unless otherwise disclosed in this section. A score of '3' means ESG issues are credit-neutral or have only a minimal credit impact on the entity, either due to their nature or the way in which they are being managed by the entity. Fitch's ESG Relevance Scores are not inputs in the rating process; they are an observation on the relevance and materiality of ESG factors in the rating decision.
