Executive Summary

Executive Summary (1/2)

- Profit of EUR 263.6m in extremely difficult year 2023; the main reasons for this profit decline are
  - Normalisation of risk costs (see below)
  - Increased refinancing costs
  - Legal changes to commission structures for insurance products
- Double digit growth in new business in Mobility and Business & Corporate Banking
- Increased share of new business with collateral as well as a restriction of underwriting policy for non-collateralized business improves new business risk quality
- Loan loss provisions increase, as the still high inflation and recessive tendencies of the German economy result in a normalisation of arrears and default rates after several years with very low rates
- NPL ratio rises by 40 basis points to 2.16%, mainly driven by the postponement of write-offs by 12 months due to economic considerations, resulting in a longer in-house processing and later sell-off of non-performing loans
- All capital ratios are comfortably above the regulatory minimum requirements
- Strong funding profile consisting of retail and wholesale deposits, CPs, ABS, Pfandbriefe as well as senior unsecured debt

Other liabilities	903	789	-114
Equity	3.318	3.393	+75
Total Liabilities & Equity	53.635	53.250	-385

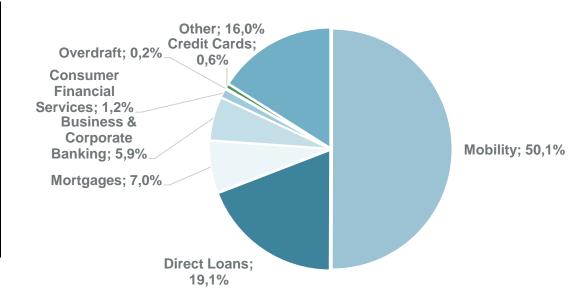

- The significant increase in cash reflects the comfortable liquidity position driven by TLTRO repayments, a strong increase in retail deposits as well as two new senior unsecured issuances
- Receivables from banks remained relatively stable due to netting effects (reduction of SCF funding, increase in HCBE funding, the divestment of stake in PSA Bank and the acquisition of MCE Bank)
- The increase in receivables from customers is to be attributed to an increasing business volume and recovery effects after the corona crisis
- The volume of debt & other fixed-income securities reduced in 2023 due to the amortization of retained ABS transactions and the maturities of high quality liquid assets (HQLA bonds)
- Liabilities to banks decreased due to TLTRO repayments
- The increase in liabilities to customers is mainly driven by a strong increase in term deposits following rising interest rates and to cover funding requirements
- The total volume of issuances remained stable; the amortization effect of ABS transactions was covered by the closing of two new market ABS transactions (total EUR 1.6bn)) + the placing of two new medium term note transactions (total EUR 1.250m) and higher commercial paper volumes
- Capital injection in 09/23 (EUR 75m)

Relative Portfolio Share 2023

Development of customer assets:

- The increase in Mobility's net balance is to be attributed to growth in new business (e.g. recovery effects after the supply chain disruptions)
- Slight decrease in Consumer Financial Services due to lower new business following migration to Openbank
- Moderate increase in Direct Loans and Mortgages
- Other include intragroup funding

- The strong increase in interest expenses is mainly driven by higher refinancing costs
- The reduction in income from capital instruments is due to a lower dividend income
- Net fees and commissions decreased by 34,2% Rationale: The German Insurance Supervision Act - leading to a decrease in commission income and slightly higher commissions to be paid to dealer partners (Mobility)
- Lower administrative costs are mainly driven by lower personnel expenses especially for variable remunerations as well as lower provisions for pension obligations
- The increase in operating income is mainly to be attributed to the gain on the disposal from the sale of the stake in PSA Bank Deutschland GmbH
- LLP were negatively impacted by parameter deteriorations, a normalization of defaults on instalment loans, additions to specific valuation allowances in the corporate client business and lower income on written-off accounts
- Earnings from profit transfer agreements decreased (SC Leasing)

Non Performing Loans Ratio increased

NPL Ratio

NPL ratio rises by 40 basis points to 2.16%, mainly driven by the postponement of write-offs by 12 months due to economic considerations, resulting in a longer in-house processing and later sell-off of non-performing loans. Due to this reason, a further increase of the NPL ratio is expected for 2024.
